Gold Circle Awards: Scholastic Recipients

CSPA presents 1,054 Gold Circle Awards to Student Journalists in schools and colleges

NEW YORK, NY – The Columbia Scholastic Press Association's 22nd Gold Circle Awards program, its annual competition for individual achievement by student writers, editors, designers and photographers, attracted 14,842 entries from colleges, universities and secondary schools throughout the United States.

Entries were accepted from student newspapers, magazines, yearbooks and videos either originally printed or broadcast from Oct. 31, 2003 through November 1, 2004. Student journalists working on these print or electronic media chose from as many as 75 available categories for individual or staff entries.

Students from high schools and middle schools submitted 10,271 individual and staff entries in their division. Judges cited a total of 556 winners for either First, Second or Third Place or for Certificates of Merit for those deemed worthy of honorable mention in a category.

College student journalists sent 4,571 entries in the same 75 categories in the separately judged collegiate division. A total of 498 First, Second, Third Place or Certificate of Merit awards were given in the collegiate division.

Award lists were distributed at two spring 2005 conventions—the 81st Annual Scholastic Convention for junior and senior high schools (March 16- 18) and the College Media Convention on March 19, both in New York City. The actual award certificates were also made available to those winners present at the two conventions. Winning students not in attendance will receive their awards by mail beginning March 28.

"Columbia is proud to give these awards to these energetic and talented student journalists," Edmund J. Sullivan, CSPA Director, said. "We congratulate them on their enterprising work."
