PRESS ASSOCIATION

2012 Awards for Student Work

Gold Circle Awards: Scholastic Recipients

NEW YORK, NY - The Columbia Scholastic Press Association announces the winners from the newspaper and magazine categories of its 29th Gold Circle Awards program. This year attracted 10,444 entries from newspapers and magazines produced by students at colleges, universities and secondary schools throughout the United States.

Judges cited a total of 960 winners for either First, Second or Third Place or for Certificates of Merit for those deemed worthy of honorable mention in a category for newspaper or magazine, in its annual competition for individual achievement by student writers, editors, designers and photographers.

Entries were accepted from student newspapers and magazines published from June 16, 2011 through June 15, 2012. Student journalists working on these publications chose from 78 newspaper categories and 34 magazine categories for individual or staff entries.

Earlier this year, judges cited 745 winners for the yearbook and digital media, which attracted 4,956 entries from colleges, universities and secondary schools throughout the United States.

Entries were accepted from student yearbooks and online publications published from November 2, 2010 through November 1, 2011. Student journalists working on these print or electronic media chose from 42 yearbook categories and 51 digital media categories for individual or staff entries.

MAGAZINE

Includes general interest, literary, literary-art, folk and other specialized magazines.

These awards reflect entries produced between June 16, 2011 through June 15, 2012. Because CSPA dates its awards by the year in which they are given, they are known as the 2012 Gold Circle Awards for Magazines.
