Gold Circle Awards: Scholastic Recipients

NEW YORK, NY - The Columbia Scholastic Press Association announces the winners its 31st Gold Circle Awards program. This year attracted 11,407 entries produced by students at colleges, universities and secondary schools throughout the United States.

Judges cited a total of 1,533 winners for either First, Second or Third Place or for Certificates of Merit for those deemed worthy of honorable mention in a category. Entry categories included those for newspapers, magazines, yearbooks or for digital (online) media, in its annual competition for individual achievement by student writers, editors, designers and photographers.

NEW YORK, NY - The Columbia Scholastic Press Association announces the winners from the yearbook and digital media categories of its 30th Gold Circle Awards program. This year attracted 11,407 entries produced by students at colleges, universities and secondary schools throughout the United States.

Judges cited a total of 1,533 winners for either First, Second or Third Place or for Certificates of Merit for those deemed worthy of honorable mention in a category. Entry categories included those for yearbooks or for digital (online) media, in its annual competition for individual achievement by student writers, editors, designers and photographers.

Entries for the newspaper and magazine categories for 2014 are published from June 16, 2013 through June 10, 2014. Student journalists working on these print or electronic media will choose from 78 news categories and 34 magazines categories for individual or staff entries.

Entries were accepted from student yearbooks and digital media publications published from November 2, 2012 through November 1, 2013. Student journalists working on these print or electronic media chose from 42 yearbook categories and 51 digital media categories for individual or staff entries.
