Gold Circle Awards: Scholastic Recipients

NEW YORK, NY — The Columbia Scholastic Press Association's 20th Gold Circle Awards program, its annual competition for individual achievement by student writers, editors, designers and photographers, attracted 14,404 entries from colleges, universities and secondary schools throughout the United States.

Entries were accepted from student newspapers, magazines, yearbooks and videos either originally printed or broadcast from October 16, 2001 through October 31, 2002. Student journalists working on these print or electronic media chose from as many as 77 available categories for individual or staff entries.

Students from high schools and middle schools submitted 10,642 individual and staff entries in their division. Judges cited a total of 697 winners for either First, Second or Third Place or for Certificates of Merit for those deemed worthy of honorable mention in a category.

College student journalists sent 3,762 entries in the same 77 categories in the separately judged collegiate division. A total of 615 First, Second, Third Place or Certificate of Merit awards were given in the collegiate division.

Award lists were distributed at two spring 2003 conventions—the 79th Annual Scholastic Convention for junior and senior high schools (March 19-21) and the 25th Annual College Media Convention (March 20-22), both in New York City. The actual award certificates were also made available to those winners present at the two conventions. Winning students not in attendance will receive their awards by mail beginning March 24.

“Beyond the considerable numbers involved, the Gold Circle program represents a commitment by the Association to encourage and recognize student efforts in journalism,” Edmund J. Sullivan, CSPA Director, said.

“The hard work and dedication these young men and women have invested in the student press will serve them well in whatever endeavors they attempt in the future.”
